

Letter, Mary E. [Davis?] to Emily Bissell, undated

[p. 1]

given to Miss [Kain]¹

My dear Miss Bissell

A package of stamps and $3.44 were given over to me to mail to you. I am sorry there is not more money to return. I think our people are getting tired of the stamps, and then for one trouble this year they would not stick.

We have no chairman of Social Services so they were given to me, to mail to you.

Very truly,

(Enclosed my check for $4.44)

(Mrs) [May] E. [Davis]²

² The author has a fairly simple name, but their handwriting is difficult to decipher. The first name could be "May" or "Mary," while the last name could be "Davis," "Lane," "Dans," or something else entirely. The bracketed terms represent the best guess.
